The BAYONET

VOL. XVIII. AUGUSTA MILITARY ACADEMY, FORT DEFIANCE, VA June 3, 1960 No. 7

Commencement Exercises Begin

Colonel Roller's Promotion To Brig.-Gen. Highlight Of 1959-'60 School Year

When Maj. Chas. S. Roller, Jr. selected "Ad Astra Per Aspera" as the name for the newly formed honor fraternity at Augusta in 1925, little did he realize that in 1960 he would be receiving a star on his shoulder! But that's exactly what did happen on the 27th of January when Col. Roller received an important missal from the Governor of Virginia. Recognizing Col. Roller's sixty years of teaching and fifty years service as principal at one of the South's leading military preparatory schools, Governor J. Lindsay Almond bestowed upon Col. Roller the well deserved rank of Brigadier General in the Virginia State Guard.

In an informal yet, stirring ceremony, Major Chas. L. Stark, Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the Academy, read the citation from Virginia's Governor in the Mess Hall before the entire corps of cadets, faculty officers, and Mrs. Chas. S. Roller, Jr., Mrs. Samuel S. Wales, and Mrs. M. Harris Livick. After the citation had been read, Mrs. Livick, granddaughter of the Colonel, pinned the new stars on the General's shoulders and then honored him with the highest accolade of all, a kiss! The roar of approval from the 550 spectators was proof, indeed, that everyone assembled felt that the Governor had honored their beloved principal with an honor which was justly due him.

Gen. Roller, graduating from V.M.I. in 1901, returned to his prep school alma mater after brief periods at V.M.I., Washington and Lee University and Furman. From a school of 150, Gen. Roller has seen his work bring boys from all parts of the country and from foreign countries to go to school under the "Big Boy". Now with a corps of over 500 boys, a faculty of 50, and with buildings constantly being enlarged and improved, the General is looking forward to 1960-61 as another step forward in the progress which AMA has seen each year while he has been Principal.

Sentiment of the corps, Sir, is that each one of your boys is proud of you and delighted to have a Brigadier General as the head of their school, but, sir, it's so hard to stop calling you, Colonel!

A.M.A. Honor R.O.T.C. School

General Charles S. Roller, Jr. has received a telegram from the Department of the Army announcing that Augusta Military Academy again has been awarded honor school rating. He says this is the 39th time AMA has won this recognition.

The telegram from Washington follows:

"The ROTC unit at your institution has been selected as a military school honor ROTC unit for having maintained exceptionally high standards of military training and discipline during the 1959-1960 school year. The Secretary of the Army extends congratulations to your institution."

The message was sent by the Adjutant General, Department of the Army.

Canevet Receives National Honor

There appears elsewhere in this issue, a news story concerning Cadet Canevet's winning State Honors in French I contest. As we go to Press, Col. W. L. Gardner, received word from The American Association of The Teachers of French, That Cadet John Cavenet has been named first placed winner in the National Contest.

Hearty congratulations were conveyed to both Col. Gardner, and to Cadet Cavenet by James W. Glennan, Chairman.

With this honor, also goes a prize of $100, a set of French played on records, and a medal of honor from the Ambassador of France.

A Job Well Done

THE BAYONET cannot let the school year pass without paying a well earned and well deserved tribute to Cadet Captain "Bill" Bowen, Batallion Commander, and to Cadet Captain "Jim" Towe, Batallion Adjutant. These two fine Cadets and gentlemen have shown qualities of leadership, friendliness and judgement which have led the Corps of Cadets through as successful a year as has been seen within these hallowed walls.

The casual observer, even most members of the Corps itself has no idea of the time and problems which are daily faced by those officers who control so many phases of Cadet life. No casual observer can imagine the time consumed each day by these leaders of the largest corps in Augusta's history in matters of Military discipline, organizations, etc, etc, ad infinitum. These two men have set the example for the other cadets to follow. These two men have faced probems with courage, have extended their hands with friendliness, have been firm yet fair in judgement, have given encouragement where encouragement was needed, and in general filled their respective offices of leadership with honor.

Faculty Plans For The Summer

The Bayonet Reporter interviewed the majority of the faculty to find out what their plans were for the coming summer vacation.

The plans included summer school, teaching, going to summer school, farming and vacationing, etc.

Camp Kannata

The largest number of faculty plan to teach at Col. H. D. Deane's summer camp: Camp Kannata. This group includes: Col. Deane, Major Savedge, Capt. Saunders, Capt. Hanson, Lt. Allen, Lt. Rickman. The camp begins June 15 and runs for six weeks.

Military Duty

Major E. W. Parkins, our genial Adjutant, will attend the U. S. Army Camp assignment at Ft. Meyer, on duty with Army Map Service, July 24 to August 7.

Johns Hopkins

Major Hoover has been awarded a National Science Foundation Grant in Mathematics and will attend Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore from June 27 until Aug. 5th. From June 13 until June 18 he will assist Col. Gardner with his Reading Clinic in Staunton.

Reading Clinic

Col. Gardner will again hold his Reading Clinic at his home in Staunton from June 13 until July 12. Col. Gardner has been conducting this remedial reading and developmental reading clinic for the past seven years.

Farming

Major Koogler and Capt. Hawpe will devote their entire summer vacation to managing their spacious farms in the nearby vicinity. Lt. Parrish will spend his time chicken farming.

Vacationing

Col. and Mrs. McCrum will return to their home in Aurora, West Virginia for the summer months.

Major and Mrs. Oscar A. Davis will go to their summer home at Lake Conneaut at Conneautville, Penna.

Cadt. John Canevet Wins French Honor

Gen. Chas. S. Roller, Jr. has received a communication from the College of William and Mary, that A.M.A. Cadet John Canevet placed first in the state of Virginia in a National Foreign Language competition. Cadet Canevet's first place was won by a record grade in the competition of 99.25%. This rating was far above the second place winner with a grade of 90.25%. Cadet John Canevet is the son of Mrs. Etta M. Canevet, school nurse at Augusta Military Academy.

The category in which Canevet completed was against 891 select students of French 1, from 59 schools, representing students under instruction by 60 teachers of Franch. Honors also go to his teacher here at A. M. A., Col. Leonard Gardner, of the A. M. A. Foreign Language Department.

Cadet Williams McVey placed fifth in the competition in French III.

Cadets Canevet and McVey received a roaring round of applause in the Mess Hall when these high honors were announced by Headmaster, Col. H. D. Deane. Col. Deane also conveyed congratulations, to these two outstanding Cadets, on behalf of Gen. Roller, and expressed his pride in the accomplishment and the honor they brought to the school, to themselves, and to their teacher, Col. Gardner.

Capt. Kreisler will return to his home in Madrid to spend the summer months with his mother, and travel extensively through France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany and Austria.

Bridgewater

Major Kramer will attend Bridgewater College this summer taking courses in Modern Mathematics.

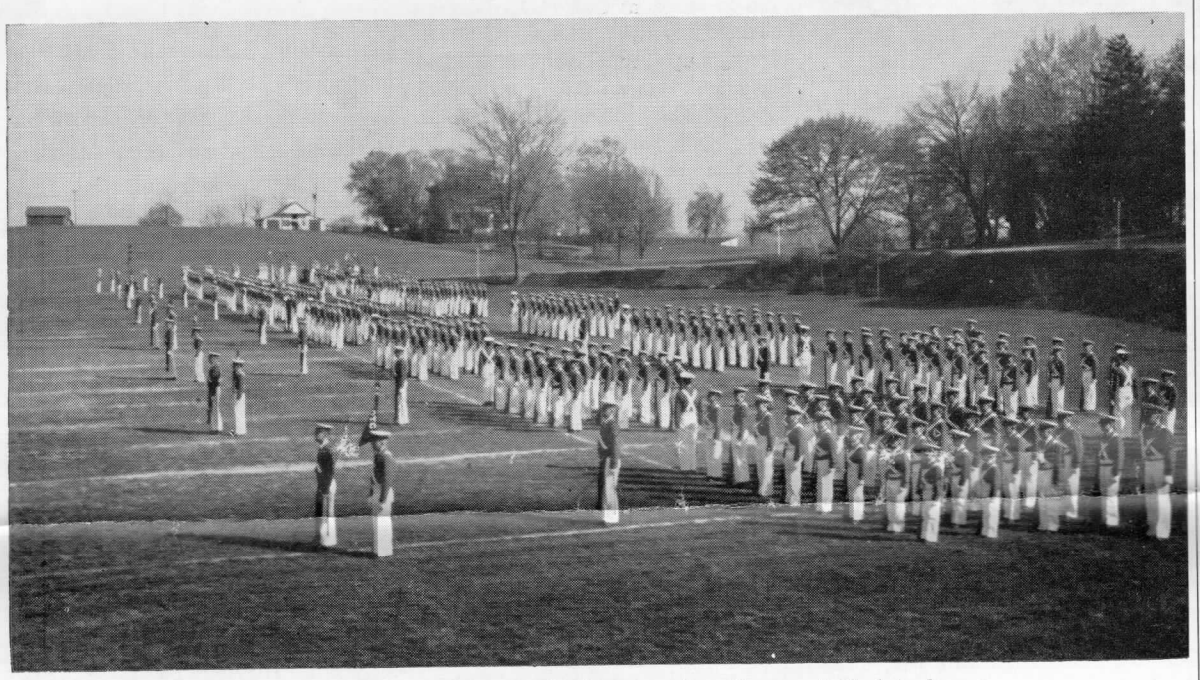
Please take special note of the fact that absolutely no permits will be granted before, after or during final ball on Monday night for any reason whatsoever.

OUTSTANDING EVENTS OF THE

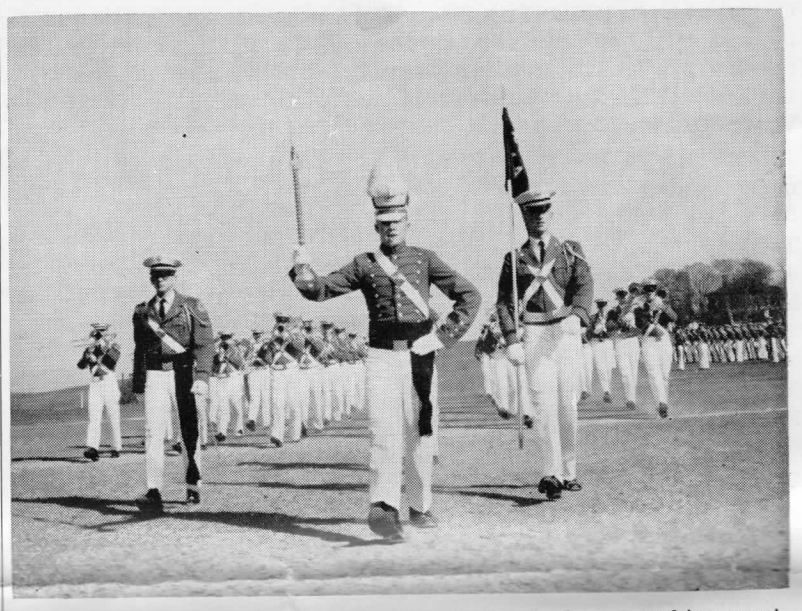
Just prior to the opening of school, Gen. and Mrs. Roller celebrated their GOLDEN WEDDING anniversary. This very fitting pre-school celebration was a grand beginning of a new year for the "Big Boy" and "The Boss". Appearing in photo with Mrs. Roller and the Gen. are Mrs. Livich and her husband Maj. Livich and Mrs. Wales with her husband, Maj. Wales.



Every Sunday during the school year, the Corps of Cadets has a Dress Parade on the front Bowl. This is a weekly ritual regardless of the weather, neither cold, nor rain nor snow cancels this impressive ceremony.

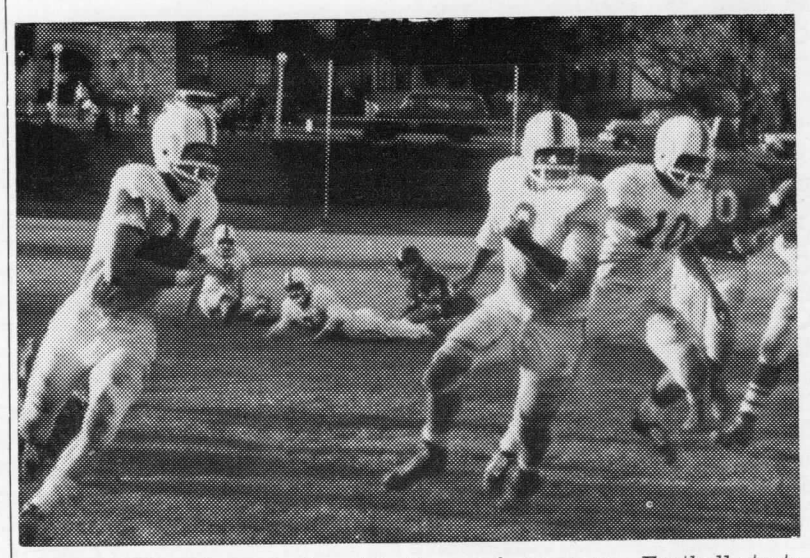
The crowning of a Queen to rule over the Pin-Up Dance is a highlight of the social part of school life. Here, Miss Susan Elliott Crocket, is about to enter the Gym where she is awaited by her court of attendants. She was crowned Miss Augusta XVII in a colorful ceremony by Gen. Chas. S. Roller, Jr.

The highlight of each year's R. O. T. C. program is the annual Military Government Inspection. Inspection begins as Major Stark, P.M.S. & T., presents the Chairman of the inspecting team to the Full Field Group.



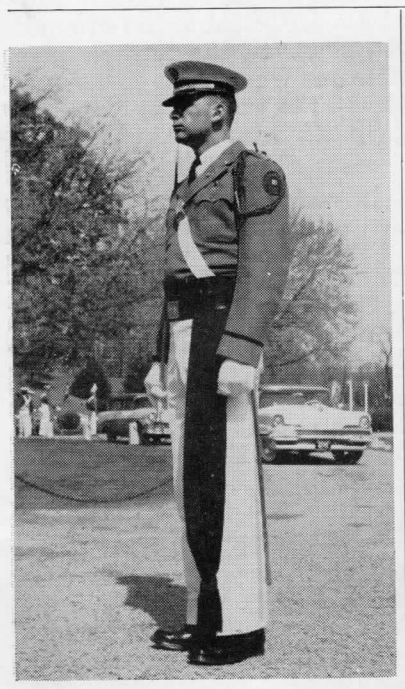
OUR BAND is ever a busy group as each day it plays marching music for drill and parades and is the real "work horse" organization and unsung heroes of every formation.

Cadet Gibbs of Headquarters Co. is questioned on all phases of Cadet life by the inspecting Colonel.



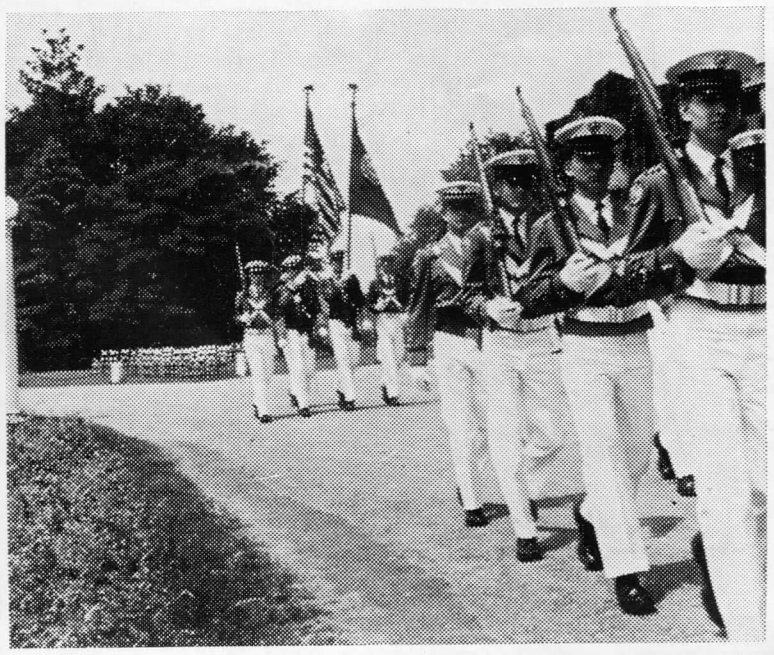
Athletics fill an important part in Augusta's program. Football starts the season off sportswise, and is followed by Basketball, Baseball, Lacross, Tennis, Swimming and Fencing. A.M.A.'s Rifle team also is part of the extracirricular program and won National Honors this year.

YEAR IN A PICTURE REVIEW



Cadet Captain "Bill" Bowen was as fine a Senior Cadet Captain as has ever led the Corps. The Bayonet has paid special tribute to Capt. Bowen in a feature editorial in this issue.

Col. J. C. McCue, popular faculty Officer, speaks at the dedication of plaques at Memorial Arch given to honor and to perpetuate the memory of Professor Roller, Founder, and Capt. Chas. S. Roller, III, son of Gen. and Mrs. Roller.



The somewhat drab and routine life of studies and drill is broken by the presence of beautiful and charming dates for all of the A.M.A. dances. Here Miss Augusta XVII and her Court thrill and make the boys forget lessons for a big weekend.

Snow fell this winter in qualities unseen within the memory of most of us. Over 61 inches kept us under a blanket of snow throughout most of the winter term. Here is pictured, "WHITE HALL" under an 18 inch fall on March 17th.

Highlight of Finals is Sunday's Baccalureate Service at famous Old Stone Church. Here "The Colors" in Parade up U. S. II to the Church.

Farewell--But Not Good-bye

On June 7th, after commencement exercises are over, and diplomas handed to the successful graduates of Augusta Military Academy, and the final Taps is sounded, we will say farewell to close to one hundred Augusta Cadets. Regardless of the attitude of many of these boys in what is considered normal "gripping" from time to time, not a single one of these boys will leave the front arch without a lump in their throat, and at least a slight pain of leaving in their hearts.

Each of these boys has learned to know hard work in putting book material, and teachers lectures into their respective brain contours. Each of these boys knows the heat and cold and drudgery of drilling in fair weather and foul. Each of these boys has done his part in winning year after year the highest honors for Augusta, in the annual Government Military inspections. Each of these boys has brought pride into the souls of hundreds of spectators in parading on the Post each and every Sunday during the school year, through sun, and rain and snow. Each of these boys, consciously or unconsciously has absorbed a part of the tradition and the Espirit de Corps that is Augusta's. Each of these boys will carry with him for the remainder of his life at least some part of what he has absorbed during his stay within these walls.

We congratulate you on your achievements, and we wish you well in your future endeavors. We shall follow your progress through life with interest and will take personal pride in all your successes whatever they may be. Most of you, like most that have preceded you, will return to A.M.A. from time to time, and you will always be welcome, and extended a hand of warmth and friendship.

A Farewell To Our Latin Friends

By Capt. Kriesler

This is the last issue of THE BAYONET, the issue of farewells, good-wishes. I was going to write the last message in Spanish; I was going to try my castillian farewell. Suddenly I realized the importance of the subject, I am writing to the students from South America. They have been one, two, four years with us. I have been four years with them, with the cadets, with A. M. A. Experiences have been crowding my mind, some good, some mild, all of them linked with the school, all of them happy ones. Today, in my farewell to you, — "Cadetes Latinos" — I want to use English language as a way of thanks. I want to write in the language of the United States, I want to do it a humble compliment to "our" country.

During the past months . . . years perhaps you have learned about this country, about these people. It is essential for you to carry out from America the truth about her. This short farewel had to be written by an outsider, by a non-citizen; otherwise it will not bear any weight. I, as you must, recognize the values of the U. S., ignore the human defects of the everyday life, and wish to cry, loud and hard, the invaluable set of virtues already learned.

You have seen democracy at work. You have seen the "standard" American treating you as an equal. You have experienced the same hardships, the same wonderful impressions with the American cadet. You have shared room, life, even you have shared . . . dates! You have learned about the American way of living right among the Americans . . .

There is only one thing I have to tell you before saying "Adiôs". I have to remind you to keep with the same impression, to avoid falling anew into the lack of understanding of some of your fellow citizens. No matter where you are, — Caracas, Quito, Habana, Panama or Lima — you must remember that the American friends you made still being your friends, and that they will be your friends, no matter which strange incluences may try to set a fire the castle of your friendship.

Let me, now, say farewell, — Adiôs — ; allow me to wish you the very best. The world opens its fantastic gates to you, make the best of your visit, that wonderful visit to the world called: LIFE! God bless you all!

U. R. Room Regulation For Usable Uniforms

Capt. Paul Andrews has announced for the benefit of Graduates and Cadets not returning next fall, the proper disposing of their usable uniforms. There are two possible options which such cadets may follow: 1, Take uniforms home, have them cleaned and pressed and mailed back to the Uniform Room after Aug. 15th; or, 2, Turn uniforms over to The Shack for storage until Aug. 15th. Graduates and P.G.'s may get overcoats cleaned and pressed and turn them in before leaving school.

All Cadets returning next fall are urged by Capt. Andrews to have any required alterations done at home because the school facilities are overloaded upon return to school and of necessity, new Cadets must be given priority.

TIME OUT

Sports by J. H. Morris

Sportswise, the annals have been closed on another successful season at Augusta. We all look forward to the summer ahead of us. We must not forget, however, the fun we have had here at A.M.A. Our various teams went on to many victories and also some few defeats. In the writer's opinion, we have never had a better Spring Sports Season than that just past.

The netmen had five meets in which they won one, but did so with mostly an inexperienced team. Our team took Fishburn on the home court, the first such win in three years. Team members were Trimble, Juby, Pugh, Whatley, Cooper and Tangorra. Trimble, Cooper and Juby won three single and two doubles. Trimble Captained the team. I wish them much success for next season.

Coach Ralph's baseball team won three and lost six. Pitchers were Gardill and Hall. I pick as this year's best players, Lewis, Timpko, Allison and Blaylock. Other members of the squad included Cash, Dorrington, Swanson, Rodiquez, McClelland and Wilson. I wish you fellows who are returning, the best of luck in the future.

The Cindermen of Augusta had a very successful season; much better than last year. We had our first meet on our home grounds in fifteen years. This meet was against Greenbrier Military Academy. I think our boys did very well considering that we were running against scholarship athletics. Still the score was close — 58 to 54 for Greenbrier. We went up against champions from neighboring states and came out well, all things considered. Outstanding were, McAleese, Bergman, Frech, Trott, Atwell, Harlow, Noboa, Morgan, Christensan, Urbine, Newman and Prince. McAleese took top honors in High Jump, Broad Jump and low hurdles and running events. Atwell was outstanding in Pole Vault and relays. Harlow did well in shot put, and Noboa was tops in running. Morgan showed up well in Pole Vault, Christensen in High Jump and Urbina, Newman and Prince all looked exceptionally good in running events. After much work with inexperienced men, we finally came up with outstanding mile relay and 880. We look forward to the Prep School Meet in Charlottesville. If Track continues to improve as it has this year and last, we look forward to a real winning combination coming up.

The Stickmen had a grueling schedule to meet. We lost these meets by close scores. I pick Hooker and Amendola as the outstanding players for Col. Hoovers Lacross team. These men scored most of our goals. In attack position, Schlusemeyer and siman showed up best. Defensive players were White, Williamson and Baker. Because so few Prep Schools have Lacross, we had to schedule College Freshman, and had again to go up against experience and scholarship athletes. Col. Hoover repeatedly expressed satisfaction with the progress and showing his boys made, and that makes for a successful season. Best of luck to team captains Hooke rand Amendola, and all members of the team.

Faculty Plans
